

The AABRI International Conference
April 1st to April 3rd, 2019
Savannah, GA

Michael Melton, Ph.D.
Founding Director and Professor of Finance
Center for Advanced Financial Education
Roger Williams University

Abstract:

Managing Real-Dollar Portfolios in Academia Today – An Experiential Approach

This research addresses the changing requirements/needs of industry today and how academia can better prepare students through implementation of experiential learning in advance finance courses through the investment of real-dollars and management of complex portfolios. The focus of this research details a three-prong approach – one that not only incorporates the skills of an analyst, but those of a trader and a portfolio manager as well.